

Special Educational Needs & Disabilities Policy

This policy is written with regard to:

- The SEND Code of Practice: 0 to 25 years, July 2014
- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014 and associated regulations

ETHOS

Marland School is a dual site special school for students who have Social Emotional and/or Mental Health Needs or an Education, Health Care Plan in which the primary need is identified as Behavioural, Emotional and/or Social Difficulties (BESD) or Social, Emotional and/or Mental Health needs (SEMH), with many experiencing secondary / additional special educational needs. Marland is a school first and foremost, so our approach is an educational one focussed on teaching and learning. Some emotional and behavioural problems result from the frustrations associated with other learning difficulties. These other problems may only become apparent once a student's behaviour has settled and they begin to be motivated enough to access their learning.

AIMS

- To organise the school in such a way that students with social, emotional and/or behavioural difficulties are supported, motivated and enabled to achieve success through personalised learning.
- To help students overcome their social, emotional and/or mental health difficulties.
- To support students in managing their complex needs, for example a diagnosis of ASC or ADHD, and resultant behaviours.
- To identify and ameliorate other learning difficulties and/or learning delay, in particular SpLD, and numeracy / literacy difficulties.
- To help develop skills for independence and to identify a pathway which will enable them to make a positive contribution to British society.
- To maintain close contact with the home: making parents and carers welcome in the school and to enable them to play a full part in the education of their children.

OBJECTIVES

These aims will be achieved by:

- providing all staff with up to date and relevant information on the needs of students;
- providing staff with regular opportunities to discuss students' needs
- providing staff with regular professional development opportunities to expand their SEN Pedagogy;
- providing a structure within which information on students can be collected, provided and processed systematically;
- acting promptly on decisions made

THE ANNUAL REVIEW PROCEDURE

Annual reviews at Marland are carried out with a Person Centred Review [PCR] approach.

A date is set at the beginning of the school year for the Annual Reviews to be held. The LA is informed of this Annual Review Schedule with an open invitation to attend all review meetings.

The reviews are held as follows:

Informing parents and other professionals: Three weeks before the set date for the annual review a letter is sent out to invite parents and any professionals involved with the student to the meeting. Follow up phone calls are made where appropriate.

Gathering information:

The following information is collated for the review:

- The current IEP
- An up to date IBMP
- the latest individual learning plan or learning journey that details intervention support and student progress;
- recent Assessment Summary;
- record of attendance;
- speech and language assessment if the student has complex language difficulties;
- speech and language report if the student receives SLT;
- EP report if needed;
- physiotherapy report if needed;
- medical reports if appropriate;
- other relevant reports or information.

Attendance at the review:

Parents, carers and all professionals who are currently involved with the student receive an invitation to attend the review. If professionals cannot attend they will be asked to submit the written report in advance of the review.

Professionals involved may include:

- counsellor
- speech and language therapist
- social worker
- psychiatrist
- educational psychologist
- health visitor or other health practitioner
- connexions advisor (at years 9 & 11 reviews)

If the parents cannot attend the review on the date or time offered every attempt will be made to agree a mutually convenient time and date. If parents are unable to attend then issues that need to be raised will be discussed on the telephone. Every effort will be made to enable parents to attend the annual review.

The Role of the Educational Psychologist:

The EP is not necessarily involved in Reviews at Marland but may be involved in an assessment of a student if there is a specific need or request

- the Heads of Teaching and Learning co-ordinate the Person Centred Review process. They or a senior practitioner with direct oversight for the child will chair the meeting.
- at the end of a set of reviews the papers are duplicated and sent to the LA;
- the decision to amend the Statement or funding banding allocation is made by the LA although the school will make recommendations based on the evidence gathered in school;
- when the LA has received the review papers and no changes are needed the LA then informs the school in writing and the student review papers are placed in the student file;

SEND Policy

- when changes are made to the Statement the LA informs the school in writing and the amended Statement then follows; the amended Statement is then placed in the student's file.

Partnership with outside agencies:

- The co-ordination of work with agencies takes place through the respective Heads of Teaching and Learning who have an oversight of a team working around the child. All case notes and discussion are minuted and placed on file and actions are recorded.

Identification and assessment of students' needs:

- Staff meetings review 'student issues' and behaviour plans for relevant students; students who are identified as needing specialist provision will be referred to the relevant agency by the respective Heads of Teaching and Learning.
- A transparent referral system will ensure that staff and home concerns are analysed by relevant specialists and if they meet established thresholds will result in additional support and monitoring and intervention when needed.

Additional Therapeutic Provision:

Marland School is committed to supporting the holistic development of its students. Additional support mechanisms include in-house provision of a Counsellor.

The referral process for this support is through the Senior Leadership Team following extensive discussions with staff, parents and specialists. Specialists provide feedback to the respective Heads of Teaching & Learning and reports for Annual Reviews.

In addition, where such need is identified, referrals can be made by the school to seek external specialist support for individual students, this includes (but is not limited to):

- CAMHS assessment & support
- External specialised Counselling
- Autistic Spectrum Condition assessment
- Speech & Language Therapy

SEN Pedagogy and Support Strategies:

Marland School is committed to equipping staff with teaching and learning pedagogy to promote outstanding SEN provision. Staff receive regular professional development opportunities through individual, department, and whole staff training. The school SEN Database holds strategies and reports for each individual student centrally. This promotes consistency in provision.

Inclusion and Integration Pathways:

The majority of students at the end of KS4 will transition to Further Education College using a pathway where they will have opportunities to select a college of their choice.

The transition process Pathways for students will change as students make progress and grow and develop. The approach to pathways is flexible and is determined by all the factors affecting the young person at the time. Decisions are made through consultation in school with teachers and specialists and parents and at Annual Review. Where possible staff from destination colleges will be invited to final reviews.
