

There are over 170 job roles in construction. They are not all on building sites. There are many other jobs, such as accounting, admin, design, legal, IT and marketing roles. Work can include building and updating houses, constructing large buildings for businesses such as stadiums and buildings where people work. It can involve creating roads and bridges to connect towns and cities. Sometimes parts are made away from a building site known as 'offsite manufacturing'. It is thought that 52,800 extra workers will be needed in the South from 2024 to 2028.
